Mr. Pierce, of Pennsylvania, also withdrew the nomination of Mr. Black, and that of Mr. Stewart was withdrawn by the Maine delegation, with the remark that Maine kept step to the music of the union. (Cheers.)

Mr. Finch, of Nebraska, moved that the roll call be suspended and that John P. St. John be nominated by acclamation.

Hon. James Black, of Lancaster, Pa., came to the stand amid great applause, and said that he was not a candidate for the nomination, and had requested the delegates from his state not to present his name. In canvassing all the names that might be presented he knew of none more acceptable than that of Mr. St. John, and this convention would honor itself in making that nomination. He believed that more votes would be cast for him than for any other candidate that could be nominated. [Loud cheers.]

Mr. John Russell, of Michigan, also seconded.

The platform, after acknowledging the sov-topy of Almighty God, to whose laws all councing and growth under God of our widely-extended country—and which, imperiling the perpetuity of our civil and religious liberties, are baleful fruits by which we know that these laws are allke contrary to God's laws and con-travene our happiness, and we call upon our fellow citizens to aid in the repeal of these laws and in the legal suppression of this baneful liques traffic.

At the afternoon session several telegrams were read, among them the following: "Make no missible nominate Gov. 8t. John. He will accept. Two hundred thousand Methodists are waiting to support him." "The voice of God and the voice of suffering humanity say no compromise; no attitation; probabilition straight and woman suffrage sure."

The question being on supporting rules and nominating Mr. 8t. John by acclamation, Mr. Hopkins, of New York, moved as a substitute that the roll of states be called, and that the delegations shall amounts their choice.

The question was then taken on suspending the rules and calling the roll of states are rejected, in the declaration of their choice for president. The declaration of their choice for president. The was agreed to, and the call of states was proceeded with.

As the states were called alphabetically the Resolutions in favor of a tax on incomes and of woman suffrage were offered and refused to the committee on resolutions. Mrs. Brown of Iowa, stated that the ladies of the convention had agreed to a memorial address to the women of the country, the points of which she gave and asked that it be adopted by the convention. It was adopted enthusiantifellly, Despatches were read from New York, Boston, Portland, Providence and other eastern town describing the enthusians with which the nomination of Mr. St. John has been received among church going and telaperance people.

Rev. Dr. Miner, of Massachusetts, one of the three members of the committee our resolutions to whom the platform was referred for literary revision, said that the committee outled not be able to report to the convention for action. He moved, however, that the name of the prohibition home protection party.

Miss Willard's was taken amid much excitement, and resulted—223 to 156—in the success of the former. The name of the party, therefore, is to be "the prohibition party."

The convention then (at 639 p. m.) took a recess till a this evening.

The lirst hour and a half of the eyening ses-gates from the various states to subscribe for from I to 50 shares each, the whole number of shares taken aggregating about 400.

Dr. Minor, of Massachusetts, from the committee on resolutions, made a report as to the finance plank in the platform. He said it had been a matter of doubt, but on a reconsideration it was determined to recommend in flou of the finance plank the one adopted by the party in 1876, and as follows:

The separation of the money of the government from all banking institutions; the national government outy should exercise the high prerogative of issuing paper money to be paid on demand in gold and silver, the only equal standard of value recognized by the civilized world.

After a discussion in which several delegates took the ground that the convention should confine itself to the simple principle of prohition, while others argued that the proposed plank would attract the votes of the greenbackers, the motion of Dr. Minor was adopted, and the finance plank of 1876 was substituted. The convention, at 10 o'clock, presended to the call of the roll of states for nominations to the vice presidency.

The nomination of Mr. Daniel was also seconded by Messrs. Babeock, of California; Bennett, of Kansas; Hunter, of Kentucky; Higgins, of Maryland; Creely, of Massachusetts, and Rev. Wm. Cox. of Minnesota.

Mr. Ransom, of New Jersey, presented the name of Clinton B. Fisk, of New Jersey.

The name of Miss Frances E. Willard, of Pernsylvania.

Mrs. Buell, of Connecticut, who had nominated Mr. Rogers, withdrew that nomination.

Mrs. Ruell, of Connecticut, who had been ated Mr. Rogers, withdrew that nonlination and seconded that of Mr. Daniel. ANNAPOLIS, MD., July 24.—A fearful wind and rain storm occurred this afternoon on Chesapeake bay, in which the steamer Georgichesapeake bay, in which the steamer Georgianua was caught off Sandy point. The windows of her upper saloon were blown out, causing the greatest consternation among her passengers. Women finited, and the men put on life-preservers, expecting that the boat would go down. She lost her way in the blinding rain, and was at the mercy of the waves until the United States revenue steamer Philox came along and took her in tow. The Philox had great difficulty, and the strain was sogreat upon her that her engine could barely turn the propeller. She finally reached this port at 7 p. and, with the Georgianua, will remain here to night. The storm is represented asone of the most severe ever experienced on Chesapeake bay.

purpose of being examined before trial as parties to the action as to their accounts and transactions with John C. Eno individually, as president of the Second National bank. The examination had been ordered so as to frame the complaint. Counsel for the defendant moved to vacate the order for their examination, and counsel for the bank opposed the metion.

The order was granted on an affidavit of Jas. A. Trowbridge, the president of the bank of the bank from April, 1822, until May 8, 1884; that he misappropriated large sums of the bank from April, 1822, until May 8, 1884; that he misappropriated large sums of the bank from a pril, 1822, until May 8, 1884; that he misappropriated large sums of the bank from the properties of the bank from the bank had been in the hank of the bank sum upon a special form known as "cashier's checks." The amounts of those checks were from $100,000 to $400,000. Eno made entries in the book showing apparently that they were issued as loans, with proper collateral, and told the officers of the bank the had deposited the securities with the safe deposit company.

The sum of $2,850,000 was paid by the bank to the defendants which they had never returned or made good in any way. They refuse to give the bank also any information whatever in regard to their dealings with Eno and without the information it is declared that the complaint cannot be framed. TWO QUIET PLACES.

Not Much Stir at Republican Headquarters The headquarters of the republican congressional committee, at the corner of H street and Vermont avenue, presented a very quiet appearance yesterday. A reporter strolled in and found no one in the lower room but a sleepy janitor dozing in the front window and a lone visitor from West Virginia in the back room, while upstairs the secretary, Hon. Edward Mc-Pherson, was found to be the sole occupant,

Pherson, was found to be the sole occupant, and busily engaged in pasting on long strips of envelope paper the smaller written slips, forming the index of his biannual campaign book, "Text Book of Politics."

Mr. McPherson said that the book this year would contain more of general interest than any he had compiled for a number of years, as congress during the past ten years has turnished a vast amount of interesting matter. He said that the campaign had not yet fully opened, but it was in far better condition than that of four years ago at the same time of year. Then the dissatisfaction over the presidential nomination was almost universal. This year, while numbers felt sore over Mr. Rialne's success, very large numbers were enthusactically

It Was All a Mistake,

TT WAS VERY HOT.

Vat Man Suffered Until the Rain Cooled Them Off-Two Sunstrokes,

As far as is known nobody complained of the heat yesterday. Nobody had energy enough. Old Sol got right down to work soon after daybreak, and by 30'clock even the old after daybreak, and by 90 clock even the old citizen was willing to acknowledge that it was "the hottest day, except the — of July "32." The soda water clerk took down his shutters with a beaming smile, and the man that found a nickel on the avenue last high! said that he guessed some one of this guild had lost it. Everyone could give a reason for the heat, but no one had a remedy. Ice sold at a premium, and when at noon the thermometer bubbled at 35 the furthers closed up their sores.

People remained in their houses for the most of the day, faming and sipping feed drikes, and wondering why Lieut. Greely was gind to get back. The highest point resched by the thermometer, according to a down town instrument, was '001 at 340 o clock in the afternoon, but an enthusiast declares that it was '031 at that time. The man at the signal office was without his overcost. He said that the hot breezes came from the south and extended as far north as the Ohio river. "There is no sign of a cool wave," he assured the reporter, "ox-cept from showers."

"Will we have a shower?"

"I-er—that is, it will be warm for forty-cinht hours, and the cool winds in other parts of the country will affird no relief."

At 4:20 o'clock a man was cooking choice steaks on the avenue by the rays of the sun, but at 4:27 his business was ruined by some one noticing a drop of rain. This fact was soon bruited about, but before it had spread far the rain came in sheets. It was a welcome rain, and everyone enjoyed it. It cooled off the sunjudy of the streets with a ferodity of an Arctic blast. For the remainder of the evening it was delightfully cool, and at 9 p. m. the thermometer was resting easily at 8?

Miss Helen. Owens and Jesse Plater were married here at 5 o clock last Tuesday aftersoon by Rev. Temple S. Robinson, the colored pastor at Mount Jezreel Baptist church, at his residence. No. 224 E street southwest. These were the white woman and colored man from Anne Arundel county, Md., whose trials in attempting to get married were recorded in this paper Wednesday. After the marriage the couple went to the house of Plater's sister, mear Benning's station. Wednesday Jr. Hearry Richardson, the brother-in-law of the woman, from whose house the clopement took place, obtained a warrant at Annapolis, charging Plater with "abducting Helon Owens, then insane, with intent to marry said Helen, she being then and there a white woman." This warrant was sent to Mg. Dye, who merely fled it as the law against miscerenation is dead in the district. Plater may feel asfe as long as the remains here, but it would, however, probably be umplessant for him should he go to Virginis or back to Maryland. Rev. Mr. Robinson does not think that the woman is insane.
